Pure Elegance: the sleek, new leather desk accessories

A workplace is for working, right? That may be true, but it's still worth surrounding yourself with things that enhance the working day efficiently and effectively. Like the six new additions to the “Pure Elegance” accessories range: pen holders, pen trays, and document holders, along with notepad holders and accessory boxes, are perfectly coordinated to one another, can be easily combined and even stacked in some cases. They are crafted from Italian calfskin: the robust, outer Epsom leather perfectly complements the smooth, naturally grained leather used on the interior of the accessories. The fine, contrasting seam indicates the high level of skill and precision involved in the manufacture. In an elegant cognac colour, the accessories ensure a real sense of well-being at the workplace. The set is alternatively also available in classic black with tone-in-tone seam.
